Rituals (Modern/Practical Use)

THE RESTRAINT CHALLENGE

Name one area where you usually rush or overreact. For one week, delay your first reaction by 30 seconds. Let mastery win. These are our challenges, affirmations, or house practices:

THE VOICE CHALLENGE

Speak a truth you've held in for too long — Declare it openly.

THE PUBLIC STANDARD

Write your personal "Lion Standard" — a code of 3 values you publicly commit to live by.

Who Joins This House?

PEOPLE WHO:

Are Fathers, leaders, Ambitious

Want to become better public speakers, leaders, or performers

Want to conquer fear, imposter syndrome, and self-doubt

Want to be seen as pillars in their circle or community

Have a fire inside — but want focus, knowledge, and honour to direct it

MANTRA: FORWARD

The meaning of our mantra. The meaning of our mantra is a silent promise, it's a personal command to ourselves, it's a declaration. "No matter what we will keep going we will move forward" until we achieve, until we conquer. We will learn, we will grow, we will adapt, we will Evolve as we need to, as is required of us. It is a word that embodies will! Through the joys, through the pain, through the ups and downs, through everything. Forward!

HOUSE OF FIRE AND AETHER

PLACE OF WILL, COURAGE AND AMBITION.

HOME OF LEADERS, ALIENS AND STRATEGISTS

The house of Vae'Ron is a Prime house of the Levidier. Their sigil is the lion, their house colours are black and Gold, and their house represents Will, Strength, strategy and resilience. Their house believes in fairness, and justice and above all else preparation. A principle that defines this house is "one must be at least 2 steps ahead of their Enemies, and 3 steps ahead of their friends" Their philosophy is embodied in their mantra and their mantra is one word. Forward!

The lions house is designed for Leaders, those who stand a part or stand out. Those that walk with others but can walk just as easily alone (sometimes even choose it). Those who take responsibility because they believe in what's right and they stand up for it. Those who could never accept mediocre. Those who might dream too big, possess passion and Ambition that might burn too bright, yet others choose to walk beside and see our light. But we possess the will to execute, even if we have to learn the skill. We are brave hearts even when there's fear. Because fear makes us powerful we fight harder when there's something to gain or lose.

We are people who can easily fit in or stand out. Often setting pace, tone, direction, in groups, situations and themselves. They are both the fulcrum and the levers, the rocks that change the waves.

Sometimes our composition may seem intimidating, as we speak with passion and truth. But that is why my house chooses you. So you can have a place you feel you belong. A place to understand right and wrong. A place that we make Families and success. We are outsiders and Aliens and we are proud of it. "

VAE'RON PRIME.

INSIDE THE DECLARATION OF THE LION'S HOUSE

What first presents itself as a statement of identity gradually unfolds into something more enduring: a declaration. Line by line, the text establishes not only the character of a House, but a set of principles that define leadership, belonging, and power—spoken with conviction rather than spectacle.

LEADERSHIP AS MORAL OBLIGATION, NOT STATUS

From the opening passage, leadership is defined not by title, but by responsibility willingly carried.

"Designed for Leaders, those who stand apart or stand out."

"Those who take responsibility because they believe in what's right and they stand up for it."

Here, leadership is portrayed as a response to conviction rather than appointment. Authority is derived from action guided by principle, not from hierarchy or recognition.

INDEPENDENCE WITHOUT ISOLATION

A defining tension runs throughout the declaration: the ability to belong without dependence.

"Those that walk with others but can walk just as easily alone (sometimes even choose it)."

"Can easily fit in or stand out."

The declaration speaks to individuals who are self-anchored—capable of collaboration without surrendering identity, and capable of standing apart without detachment.

THE REJECTION OF MEDIOCRITY

Ambition is addressed directly and without apology.

"Those who could never accept mediocre."

"Those who might dream too big."

The declaration frames restraint of ambition as the greater failure. To aim beyond the ordinary is presented as an expectation, not an excess.

PASSION AS BOTH FIRE AND BEACON

Intensity is acknowledged as both confronting and compelling.

"Possess passion and Ambition that might burn too bright."

"Yet others choose to walk beside and see our light."

Fire, in this context, is neither softened nor hidden. It is recognised as a force that may repel some, while drawing in those willing to stand close.

WILL BEFORE SKILL

The declaration rejects the notion of effortless excellence.

"We possess the will to execute, even if we have to learn the skill."

Execution is prioritised over refinement. Capability is framed as something earned through resolve and learning, not assumed through talent alone.

FEAR REFRAMED AS FUEL

Rather than denying fear, the declaration reframes it as a source of strength.

"We are brave hearts even when there's fear."

"Because fear makes us powerful."

Fear is presented as pressure that sharpens focus. When there is something to gain or lose, resolve intensifies rather than fractures.

INFLUENCE, DIRECTION, AND IMPACT

Members of the House are portrayed as forces that shape environments.

"Often setting pace, tone, direction."

"The fulcrum and the levers, the rocks that change the waves."

The imagery suggests influence that is structural rather than performative—quiet, decisive, and enduring.

INTENSITY MISREAD AS INTIMIDATION

The declaration anticipates how its tone may be perceived.

"Sometimes our composition may seem intimidating, as we speak with passion and truth."

Rather than tempering its voice, the declaration accepts misunderstanding as a natural consequence of honesty and conviction.

BELONGING THROUGH ALIGNMENT, NOT CONFORMITY

Despite its emphasis on independence, the declaration ultimately extends an invitation.

"So you can have a place you feel you belong."

"A place to understand right and wrong."

"A place that we make Families and success."

Belonging is framed not as assimilation, but as alignment. Family is formed through shared values rather than uniformity.

PRIDE IN OTHERNESS

The closing declaration is unambiguous.

"We are outsiders and Aliens and we are proud of it."

Difference is not positioned as a flaw to be corrected, but as an identity to be claimed with confidence.

CONCLUSION

Taken as a whole, the declaration speaks to those who carry intensity, conviction, and ambition without apology. It rejects mediocrity, embraces fear, honours independence, and offers belonging without dilution.

Ultimately, this declaration is not about power over others—but about power cultivated within, and the clarity required to carry it.

A Story of Lions and Conquerors

The house of lions are the founders of the Ent empire. They have led the Ent with precision and strength since its conception and is the visionaries behind all that it has become. They are responsible for the recruitment of all Members of the original family and through their leadership was able to forge individuals from all walks of lives and position into a powerful force. They are people with foresight who believes one must live in the future but exist in the present. They also believe in always being at least 2 steps ahead of one's enemies and at least 3 steps ahead of their friends. They are strategic and methodical in their thinking and meticulous in their action. They work smart but is not averse to working hard, and they are responsible for being the teachers of most of the houses in the Ent. They are also very independent but believes in the strength and value of a team. They are highly private and highly cautious choosing only to interact with those who have proven themselves trustworthy. They are compassionate but can be equally ruthless in order to keep order, balance and cohesion. They take pride in themselves, maintains a standard and has a strong sense of right or wrong. Lions don't pride themselves in always being the most skilled at any one thing in a room e.g. the smartest or the strongest, as they are more focused on the overall picture, what gets the result. And if they have a means of getting the result they are often not concerned about what others can or can't do. Yes they wish to be the best, but the best is who wins or gets the result, the rest is all relative.

The house of lions is a house that recruits leaders. Those who appeals to this house and those this house appeals to are often people who are natural heads. They are the planners, the leaders the strategist, visionaries amongst their peers. The one in a group most people look to. They often stand out in a crowd and have alpha like tendencies. Though a common trait can be impatience and short tempers.

Prayer of Lions

(We are lions, and as lions we pray!)

Father in heaven, please have mercy and forgive me for my sins, | confess I am imperfect and nothing compared to your infinite grace, may you be present in every situation no matter what I may face.

May I always find peace in your warm embrace.

May my entire life, my entire being, be an example of your greatness, your love, your blessings, your compassion, your favour, your mercies.

If anything concerning me fall, may they only fall in place. If ever I lose, may it be to win bigger. If I lose my way, may it be only to find you, myself, and a better path.

May I have success in humility, and humility in success. May my faith empower me and may my power empower my faith. May I be inspired as I inspire

Bless me Father as I work to be more like you. Feed me lord as I seek more of you.

Strengthen me father that I may beat life's challenges. May even my flaws turn out to be my advantages.

Despite my sins and mistakes, May you protect me, May you forgive me, May you bless me, may you favour me and May you now and forever accept me.

Let my life be a living scroll —
A testament to Your greatness,
A mirror of Your mercy,
A reflection of Your love,
A vessel of Your blessings,
A river flowing with compassion,
A witness to Your favour,
A story crowned by Your countless mercies.

Bless me, Father, as I strive to reflect Your image more each day.

Feed me, Lord, not just with bread, but with truth,
For I hunger most for what comes from You.

Strengthen me, not only to endure life's trials,
But to overcome them with grace,

To meet resistance with resilience,
To turn my flaws into favour,
My wounds into wisdom,
My setbacks into sacred stepping stones.

Though I stumble, though I make mistakes,
Though I fall again and again —
May You still protect me.
May You still forgive me.
May You still bless me.
May You still favour me.

And above all, may You now and forever accept me

As Your child, Your work-in-progress,
Your beloved. Amen!

May your neighbours respect you,
Trouble neglect you,
The angels protect you,
And Heaven accept you.

May your steps be guided by wisdom,
And your words be clothed in grace.
May your heart remain open,
Even when the world feels closed.

May your burdens be light,
And your purpose burn bright.
May you find peace in silence,
And courage in storms.

May the road rise to meet you,
And the winds be always at your back.
May your table be full,
And your soul never lack.

May love find you daily,
In friend, in stranger, in self.
May your scars remind you—
Of the battles you've won, not just the pain you've felt.

May your nights bring reflection,
And your mornings bring light.
May your dreams walk beside you,
And your fears fade from sight.

May joy surprise you often,
And sorrow pass you by.
May you live as a blessing—
Not just to be blessed, but to amplify.

Pentalis - Lessons

1. "We will do what we must, until we can do what we want. But we are patient"
2. "There's only a point in being emotional about it, if the emotion serves the final purpose."
3. You may not hit perfection every second of everyday but what makes us great is that we keep on trying.
4. It is not our victories that most defines us but the experience of our losses, similarly how we act in victory and in loss is what displays our true character.
5. "Strategy is all my love...but I'll tell you when to improvise"
6. "Whichever choice you make, make it with confidence; because already that increases your chances of success."
7. There is a time for action and a time to be still. Make a move then give it time to bare fruit. Inaction may feel unorthodox but unorthodox must be our thinking.
8. To find peace in the world around us there must first be peace in ourselves. Changes start intrinsically before they manifest externally.
9. Opportunities and pathways reveal themselves when patience and finesse is shown.

11. A close few that can be trusted is better than a multitude of variables.
12. When you are at the top of the hill know that you must always be on guard as you stand in a position that others covet. You must always be ready to claim it, defend it, protect it.
13. Do not shy away from others who challenge you but always ensure you are able to meet that challenge and win.
14. Listen to what others have to say and even if you think them a fool seek the wisdom you can take from their words. I learned a great deal from observing and listening to others. Both skills knowledge information and wisdom you would be wise to do the same.
15. The weapons of a woman is not the same as a man, learn your weapons and master how to use them.
16. Don't complain about the rules, learn the rules then beat them at their own game, then you get to make the rules.
17. complaining that something is unfair does not make it fair, thoughts and actions does.
18. Don't accept restrictions placed upon you, you are free to decide who you are and what you are capable of.
19. be decisive in your actions but be willing to accept what comes with or from them.

‘A LIONS HOPE’

THE HOUSE OF LIONS

I place my trust, my hope, my love and my power in you. I want this house to represent hope, like a ray of light in darkness I want the lions to bring with them a peace and calmth birthed in the security of knowing “ with our arrival things will be better now, things will be easier, the tides will change to the desired direction, we will help, we will make a difference “.

I want us to be peaceful and warm, but ferocious and absolute just like the two sides of fire. May we be pure and may our presence purify. I want the members of my house and bloodline to represent the definition of greatness doing things based on the right and necessary path not just the emotional one.

I wish them power in every realm and every aspect and the knowledge and wisdom and capability to sufficiently wield and distribute it, so they may also empower others. For my bloodline I wish success and prosperity. May they be skilful, Powerful, talented, wise, effective, capable, noble, compassionate, kind, caring, strong, happy loving and deep. May they love as they are loved, may they be revered and admired.

May my house be favoured and blessed by God specially, may we never depart from his ways or path, may we aspire to always be more like him without mistaking ourselves for him. may we have humility in our success and success in our humility without having to be humiliated.

May the lions be champions, visionaries, kings and queens, thinkers, warriors, businessmen/ women, artists. may we be leaders that knows when to follow, may we be the head and not the tail, the top and not the bottom, winners and not losers.

May we have the shoulders that allows us to carry and shoulder responsibility and burden that others may not be capable of carrying, but may we also wear honour and privilege like a second skin. May we be good to others and may others be good to us. May we be a blessing to the earth and its inhabitants and may the earth and its inhabitants be a blessing upon us.

May we be the blessed among the blessed, the favoured among the favoured the powerful among the powerful. May God protect us all the days of our lives, and may our lives be long and prosperous. Amen.

A LIONS TRUTH

(THIS SECTION OF TEXT IS WRITTEN DIRECTLY FOR MY BLOODLINE AND DOES NOT APPLY TO ALL MEMBERS OF MY HOUSE OR CLAN, THOUGH THEY MAY FOLLOW IT IF THEY SO CHOOSE)

"We don't expect handouts; we are prepared to earn it!"

It's better to have something and not need it than to need it and not have it especially if one day it could save your life.

You are recognised as a member of the lion clan, by mind, mentality, standard, capability or blood, marriage does not make you a lion until the other aspects are exhibited.

THIS WE SHOULD SEEK AND ASPIRE TO, BOTH FOR OURSELVES AND FUTURE GENERATIONS

Know a minimum of 2 languages IN ADDITION TO English and Ekonic Trebè. They will each study at least one of the top 4 languages in the world spoken at the time of their life. After they know this language to a moderate or advanced level, they will be required to study another language of their choice for their own security as well as for diversity within the lion clan.

Each member of the lion clan will be required to study outdoor survival and orienteering. They are required to know, how to forage, find food, recognise toxic and non-toxic materials, how to make and use outdoor tools, how to hunt as well as how to track, how to recognise medicinal or healing materials, how to find and or make shelter, how to navigate, fish, build fires and any other skills that I have not named but would aid in outdoor survival.

Each member including women will study at least 3 different forms of martial arts and self-defence of theirs or their parents choosing consistently up until they have reached what is considered peak in that form e.g. a black belt or up until the age of 18. Krav Maga, Brazilian jiu jitsu, and kickboxing would be good choices in my lifetime with the added weaponry training of Eskrima, and the skills and tactics of ninjutsu.

Each member of the clan will be required to study the history, actions, achievements, lessons and knowledge of their ancestors and predecessors and be able to confidently display this.

Each member will have basic knowledge of psychology, sociology, economics, business and law (in property, business, housing, and civil law) and be able to competently display that in practical and formal ways as well in daily general life.

Each member of our clan will be taught internally and externally developed Strategies as well as be made to study and have knowledge of key figures in history that had impact on our world throughout history.

Each member of my clan will be taught true history, black history, white history, Asian history, as well as norms and customs and must be able to competently describe and display this knowledge so they may adapt and thrive in various societies and cultures in any part of the world.

Where possible each member of my clan will be required to learn to swim from before the age of 11 or the earliest time thereafter

Each member of my clan will be required to know first aid and resuscitation and updated on this at least every three years practise starting from age 11.

Each member of my clan will be required to know the body, its systems, its muscle groups, its organs, their purpose, how they work, how they are supplemented and how they affect the human body.

By lion law each member of my clan will study the Apex echelon of the Ent empire.

Each member of my clan will be taught how to drive, sail, fly if resources allow.

Each descendant will be supported in developing aims and focus on their identity, core values, their agenda for life, there who they are and what they want aspects of the Levidier lessons.

Each member of the clan like all Levidians will endeavour to have, private healthcare, private tuition, life insurance health insurance and relevant technological insurances, as well as public education if state education is deemed insufficient.

It would be my preference if my clan could also have experience and training in military areas where law permits for the purpose of discipline, skills and capabilities, experience and knowledge.

I would also encourage for lions to have the skills of agriculture and farming.

Its encouraged that members of the lion's clan will have degree level qualifications.

It should be encouraged for young lions to learn financially literacy and independence from a young age, therefore lions must develop an earn it mentality, if you wish to have freedom do well in school, if you wish to earn money do chores, if you wish to earn additional favour solve a problem without it being asked of you.

Similarly for the sake of independence before entitlement parents in the lion clan if resources permit can choose to give their children a house at the age of 21 which will be their "start in life" they will need to use this house to support themselves so as to not rely upon their parents for money but also to make wise moves that may give them even more money. We should endeavour to place no restrictions upon what they do with this house one must simply trust and observe to see if they have been taught well, and their lessons stick.

Any member of the lion's clan who fights another in the lion clan unjustly or for resource automatically forfeits all their claims in the clan of lion. They may remain but will have no power position or control.

At the age of 18 it is encouraged that all members of the lions clan will find a job to understand the structure of work from the position of the bottom. They should follow formal job process such as C/Vs, cover letters reference and all other requirements just like any employee even if the job is within the Ent. Normal work rules should also apply such as being on time, working a full day, and being paid through formal channels. Each of us will know the struggles and resilience of those who work with us or for us and in knowing those struggles we can do and be better for our people as they do and be better for us.

Every member of the lion's clan will know the value of moneys and how it works from a young age. Therefore, they will work at home to earn chores, and they will pay out 40 percent of that money in bills and 20 percent of it in taxes, however based on their work ethic and the standard of their work their bills amounts can be varied. This amount will be saved and put towards their first car or given towards something of their desire

I do this not to make you suffer but I do it for the opposite to reduce your suffering in life and in the long run. I seek to give you the best start in life, and it is my job to secure your security, quality of life and make sure you survive and thrive equipped with the best knowledge, skills, capabilities and experiences possible. it is also my job to ensure the security expansion survival and progression of our overall clan and the greater Ent empire, so I leave these edicts to ensure all of that. I work so that you may all have the best futures possibly make the most of it.
