

◆ LEVIDIER ◆

THE OATH OF DOLPHINS

I follow the current wherever it flows.
I question, I wonder, I seek what it knows.
I venture beyond what is safe and what's known,
For each new journey; to conquer we grow.

I follow my wonder wherever it leads,
For questions reveal what certainty leaves.
I explore with courage, but never alone;
I strengthen my people and honour my own.

Through changing tides, wherever we roam,
Together we wander. Together we grow.
When waters are restless though currents may turn,
We adapt to the tide and display what's been learned.

With wonder, I seek. With courage, I roam.
With curiosity, I grow beyond what I've known.
Through every new current, wherever we may go,
With community, we make every shore our new home.

I AM THE DOLPHIN OF LEVIDIER
