What the Ent says ABOUT LI'NARIS

Li'Naris is the queen that never fails. Quickly rising through the ranks, her many success and victories won her the position of Second prime of Ent, She is knowledgeable, wise, resourceful, strong, dependable and efficient and it is down to many of her direct actions that the Ent has thrived to become a powerhouse today. She matches her power with humility, poise, and grace, and exhibits kindness and love to all members of the Ent. She has obvious tempered confidence centred in faith which shines through her as hope. All who has dealt with her commends on how quickly they grow to lean on or depend on her a testament to her effectiveness and strength. She is a capable leader and strategist. When something needs doing if it's not Sol'En you can trust Li'Naris to bring the result.

The journey you go on is just a prerequisite to the destination..."

"Whilst I am not proclaiming to be better than anyone, I know I am destined for greatness."

"Kindness should never be mistaken for weakness. I am fierce when I must be. Strategic when necessary. Ruthless, only in defence of those I love."

"I've sacrificed much, been rewarded even more. Every battle I face is easier because I know God fights beside me."

"Walking in purpose, on purpose this is my mantra. Time isn't to be wasted but lived meaningfully."

ABOUT THE ICON

Tanya McLean is revered not only for her unshakable standards but also for her selfless nature and emotional intelligence. She has an innate gift for forming genuine, heart-centred connections with people, driven by a purpose: ensuring the world we live in has soul, equity, and grace.

Tanya balances graceful composure with quiet ferocity. She is approachable, warm, discerning, and filled with purpose. If ever momentum falters, Tanya restores it uplifting everyone she touches with hope, clarity, and resilience. Her kindness is powerful, her reasoning sound, and her objectivity unmatched. She is more than a symbol of grace she is the standard of diligence, a strategist cloaked in poise, and a relentless force behind the rise, structure, and sustainability of the Ent Empire.

While her warmth, empathy, and connection to people are celebrated, it is her fierce precision, foresight, and unshakable resolve that define her legacy. Tanya doesn't simply support the Ent she ensures it functions, flourishes, and excels.

If Dwayne designs, she perfects. If he envisions, she allocates the resources. If he commands the future, she ensures the present is ready to carry it.

Together, they are the head and heart of the empire he architects the impossible, and she makes it operational.

Brick by brick, initiative by initiative, Tanya has touched every facet of the Ent. From mentorship frameworks and social infrastructure to spiritual cohesion and governance models, she is the engine of execution behind some of its most vital systems. Where vision is abstract, Tanya brings structure and timelines. Where passion flares, she brings calm decisiveness. And when chaos threatens, she steps in with grounded leadership that gets things done.

She rises consistently to meet every challenge not out of ambition, but because she refuses to allow anything less than excellence. Her work ethic is relentless, her eye for detail razor-sharp, and her standards, uncompromising. Tanya does not need the spotlight, but the spotlight often finds her because everything she touches works.

Her diligence is not for show it is how she lives. Even in silence, she builds. Even when unseen, she steers the ship. She is a master of people, process, and potential.

"If the Ent Empire is a fortress, Tanya is both the foundation and the flame stabilising its structure and igniting its greatness."

Her position as Second Prime is not honorary it is earned and evidenced daily. She is trusted not only to lead, but to carry the empire forward. Behind every thriving movement, there is a mind that refines the vision, a hand that builds the systems, and a heart that holds it all together.

In the Ent Empire that is Tanya McLean

1 ORIGINS

LEGACY WITHIN THE ENT

Known in the empire as Ani'hala, Tanya quickly rose to become the Second Prime of the Ent, a title earned through unshakable results and enduring trust. Dwayne Burrell himself refers to her as a “force of nature”—one who has never failed him, and never fails the Ent.

Wherever a foundation was laid, Tanya was there to cement it. She is respected by all and entrusted as one of the very few who could lead in Sol'En's absence. Her wisdom, strength, and efficiency have shaped the Ent into the powerhouse it is today.

“If it's not Sol'En, it's Ani'hala who brings the result.”

Her faith-fueled confidence, emotional resilience, and balanced leadership style make her a pillar of trust and excellence throughout the empire.

THE EARLY JOURNEY: FROM LEGACY TO LEADERSHIP

Born in Kent, UK, Tanya was raised in a bustling Caribbean household that embodied love, sacrifice, and survival. Though she now understands the financial challenges her parents faced, as a child she felt rich rich in love, adventure, and family.

From an early age, Tanya developed a deep compassion for others, often sharing her home with those in need. However, the constant sharing of space left her yearning for a sense of personal identity. She later discovered that what she lacked in privacy, she made up for in resilience.

THE RISE OF A HEALER

Tanya's professional journey began at South London Christian College, before transitioning into youth ministry and mental health services. She has held roles as:

- Committee Member – COG7Day Youth Ministry
- Counsellor & Mentor – IPD Enterprise
- Founder – Heart2Heart (a youth-focused counselling service)
- Mental Health Worker – Rethink, later promoted to the Syrian Resettlement Scheme
- Director – Emerged Ltd (now Infinity Alliance Ltd)

Alongside Dwayne Burrell, she continues to grow the empire's outreach, while also practicing as a qualified social worker and educator.

THROUGH PAIN TO POWER:

Tanya's story is one of overcoming hidden battles. Behind her glowing smile and relentless optimism was a girl who battled low self-esteem, alcoholism, and emotional suppression. A "drone," in her words, who became all things to all people, while being destructive to herself.

Despite her early academic success, failure haunted her at college and derailed her university dreams. But through loss and pressure, she found purpose. She rebuilt her life, re-took her counselling qualifications, and passed with distinction, founding her own practice in the process.

Tanya now speaks openly about her past — not with shame, but as testimony to the strength she's built through every battle.

Courage

FROM THE CORE

“I battled being unseen, the ugly duckling, the compliant middle child... I felt punished for being good. Overlooked, even when I was trying my best.”

“But those experiences became the roots of my resilience. They taught me the cost of power, the value of justice, and the importance of healing.” Tanya now stands as a testament to the impossible — a woman once forgotten, now unforgettable. A voice that was once silent, now heard across kingdoms.

MEETING THE ENT

At 23, what began as a cold day and a misplaced key led her to a youth centre — and to her destiny. There she met IPD and the young man in red who would eventually become her life and leadership partner. From that moment on, she found not just a role, but a mission. Her story with the Ent began — and she never looked back.

“I am who I am because I chose to return. The Ent shaped me into the woman I was always meant to become — strong, whole, and full of purpose.”
