

LEVIDIER

THE OATH OF BEARS

I burn with passion. I rise with intent.
I stand by my word; my honour won't bend.
With ambition, I climb, determined to grow;
Come victory or failure, still onward I'll go.

I work for my purpose, not wait for my chance.
When the path becomes harder, I strengthen my stance.
I honour my people. I stand by my name,
For loyalty matters far more than acclaim.

I pursue what I seek, but never betray
My character, my people, or who I become on the way.
For the Bear is not measured by victory alone,
But the fire to continue when the path is unknown.

With passion, I strive. With integrity, I stand.
I pursue what I believe in with all that I am.

I AM THE BEAR OF LEVIDIER
