

LEVIDIER

THE OATH OF FALCONS

The Oath of Falcons

I raise my eyes beyond where I stand.
I seek higher ground and stand firm in command.
I will not let comfort determine my height,
For progress is born when ambition takes flight.

I look to the distance. I study the way.
I prepare for tomorrow while building today.
I sharpen my focus and trust what I see,
Yet remain wise enough to change course when needs be.

When winds turn against me, I learn how to soar.
When one path is closed, I will search for one more.
No height is my limit, no summit the end;
For each place I reach shows me where to ascend.

With vision, I see. With focus, I fly.
With courage, I act. With advancement, I rise.
I look beyond limits, wherever they lie—
For the Falcon was never made only to watch the sky.

I AM THE FALCON OF LEVIDIER.
